Dear Colleague:

We are pleased to release our annual report on donor preferences in the Combined Federal Campaign, sharing here the results of the 2015 CFC and comparing them with the 2013 and 2014 campaigns.

For more than 50 years, the CFC has been an important source of funding for thousands of national and local charities. Each year, federal employees are invited to offer their support to groups that have been screened on the reach of their services, their governance structure, and their financial management.

The campaign is undergoing enormous changes as the federal government seeks to streamline its operation and more fully take advantage of web based technologies. The changes come at a time when the CFC's results are declining. In 2009, the campaign generated pledges totaling more than $282 million. In 2015, the total dropped to about $178 million.

The challenges facing the CFC are clear to all who have been involved in its operation, but we remain optimistic that this program will continue to make a valuable contribution to the charity world.

The CFC provides a unique window into donor interests. We are pleased that we are able to gather pledge data from across the country, and to report results to donors and charities alike.

About the CFC

The description of the Combined Federal Campaign presented below reflects the regulations that were in effect in 2015, the most recent year covered by this report. The government has published new regulations which will begin to go into force late in 2016. The Workplace Giving Alliance recently published a report regarding these changes which is available on the Research page of our website: www.wg-alliance.org.

How the Campaign Works

For half a century, the U.S. government has sponsored the Combined Federal Campaign – the world's largest workplace fundraising drive.

Each fall, beginning in September, federal employees – civilian, military and postal – are invited to support eligible national and local charities. Employees receive a directory that lists every eligible national and international organization, plus the many local groups that have qualified in a particular community. The size of the directory will vary, reflecting the number of local groups, but commonly “the book” runs to more than 100 pages.

Employees also receive a pledge card. They are advised that they can pick one or more groups from the list of qualified organizations and pledge to each one. About four million employees are invited to participate, and hundreds of thousands of employees pledge hundreds of millions of dollars each year.

In recent years, the list of eligible organizations has also been published on CFC websites. On these sites, employees are invited to search for charities of interest and, in many communities, to pledge online. While the use of web-based tools is growing rapidly, the majority of federal donors use the printed directory and pledge card.

Federal donors will sometimes give a single gift, but normally employees authorize their federal payroll office to withhold a particular amount from each paycheck.

Administration

The CFC is administered nationwide and overseas under the supervision of the U.S. Office of Personnel Management (OPM).

Government regulation assigns the day-to-day responsibility of running the CFC to community-based organizations called PCFOs – Principal Combined Fund Organizations. Over the years, the CFC has been consolidating PCFOs, but in the 2015 CFC there were still well over 100 such administrative zones. (The map below, published by OPM, shows 147 such zones but later in the campaign OPM reported fewer than 140 zones.) As you can see from the PCFO map below, some zones involved more than one state. Others involved more densely populated areas that cover a part of only one state. There was also a PCFO assigned to run the CFC overseas, reaching the many military employees who are located in other countries.

2015 PCFO zones—colors repeat, but do not indicate same PCFO

PCFOs organize federal volunteers who represent the campaign in the local offices of government agencies, mount kick-off events to promote the campaign, print CFC directories for distribution to federal employees in their zones, distribute and collect pledge cards, tabulate pledge results, and help to transfer donated funds from employee paychecks to the benefiting organizations.

Each PCFO is itself a 501(c)(3) tax exempt corporation. The PCFO must be audited annually and be governed by a board of directors.

Local federal volunteers oversee the PCFO in each zone of the CFC. These volunteers are organized as a local committee – the formal name is the Local Federal Coordinating Committee, or “LFCC.” The LFCC chooses the organization that will serve as PCFO, signs an agreement that authorizes the PCFO to operate within the CFC, approves an annual PCFO budget, and determines which local charity applicants meet CFC eligibility criteria.

CFC Eligibility

Organizations qualify for the CFC by meeting either national/international requirements or local requirements. Below is a summary of the criteria that were in effect for the 2015 CFC.

National/International Eligibility

To participate in the 2015 CFC at the national/international level, an organization was required to:

- Be 501(c)(3) tax exempt
- Have provided services in at least 15 states or at least one foreign country
- Have accounted for funds on an accrual basis in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP)
- Have commissioned an annual audit by an independent certified public accountant, using generally accepted auditing standards (GAAS)
- Have submitted to the IRS an annual informational “tax return” unless IRS rules did not require the organization to file such
- Be governed by an active and responsible board whose members had no material conflict of interest and a majority of whom served without compensation.

Local Eligibility

To participate in the 2015 CFC at the local level, an organization was required to:

- Be 501(c)(3) tax exempt
- Be located and active in the CFC zone to which it was applying
- Have accounted for funds on an accrual basis in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) unless the organization had revenue below $100,000, in which case a simpler bookkeeping system was permitted
- Have commissioned an annual audit by an independent certified public accountant, using generally accepted auditing standards (GAAS), unless the organization had revenue below $100,000, in which case an audit was not required
- Have submitted to the IRS an annual informational “tax return” unless IRS rules did not require the organization to file such
- Be governed by an active and responsible board whose members had no material conflict of interest and a majority of whom served without compensation.

Federations

Organizations wishing to be listed in the Charity Directory could apply directly to the CFC or through a government-approved “federation.”

To apply directly to the program, a national or international organization sent its application materials to the Office of Personnel Management in Washington DC. A local organization sent its material directly to the PCFO administering the zone the charity wished to enter.

As noted, organizations could apply through a federation, of which there were many at both the national/international level and local level. Here are the national and international federations that participated in the 2015 CFC:

* The federation name has been shortened for space.

† The CFC grants federation status to the American Red Cross and USO, though neither group has members.

Federations are 501(c)(3) tax exempt organizations, each governed by a board of directors. They must be audited annually and satisfy most of the same eligibility criteria met by individual applicants to the CFC. To qualify as a federation, an otherwise eligible organization must represent a minimum of 15 qualified CFC charities in addition to itself.

Federations review charity applications to the CFC using the same criteria applied by OPM (national and international groups) or the PCFO/LFCC (local groups). Federations may apply additional criteria. Once the federations have completed their review, they submit their recommended organizations to OPM or the PCFO/LFCC, which then conducts a second review to ensure that CFC eligibility criteria have been met.

Organizations that apply through a federation are listed with that federation in the CFC charity directory. Organizations that apply directly to the program (sending their application to OPM or a PCFO/LFCC) are listed with similar organizations in an “Independent” section.

An organization that participates in the CFC through a federation will receive reports from its federation on how well the organization did in the annual employee pledging. That organization’s CFC donations will also flow through its federation (see How the Money Flows, below).

An organization that participates as an Independent group will receive pledge reports and donations directly from PCFOs.

Charities do not have to affiliate with a federation to enter the CFC, but most do – for three key reasons.

1. Admissions support. Federations assist groups in preparing their applications. While eligibility requirements are public, preparing a successful application may not be intuitive. Federations can help applicants understand what is required and offer advice on how to resolve any weaknesses in the submitted material.
2. Increased visibility. Many federations – especially national/international federations – are organized around a specific theme. Thematic federations make it easier for donors to find and support groups they are interested in. As noted, the CFC directory is quite lengthy, running to about 100 pages. Federations are usually listed at the front of these directories in a table of contents, so donors seeking to support a specific kind of work can easily find a focused list of relevant organizations.
3. Fiscal services. Federations substantially reduce the administrative burden of processing donations, especially for national/international organizations. In the CFC, the PCFOs report pledge results for each participating charity to that charity’s federation or, if there is no federation, directly to the individual charity. Given the many administrative zones in the CFC, national and independent charities can find themselves overwhelmed by reports and subsequent payments. Federations provide a unified point of contact, simplifying the flow of information.

Federations are free to offer services beyond the processing of CFC applications, the reporting of CFC pledge results, and the transfer of CFC donations. Some offer marketing support. Some facilitate participation in state, municipal and/or private sector workplace giving campaigns. Some offer other services beyond workplace giving campaigns.

Placement in the Directory

As can happen with any lengthy list, groups that are listed at the front of the CFC charity directory appear to perform better. The government seeks to even out this effect and employs two techniques to minimize this advantage.

First, the government rotates the three main sections of the directory. Below is the order of the directory for the three years included in this report. We highlight International Organizations so that the reader can see how placement shifts.

2015	International Organizations – front of the directory Local Organizations – middle of the directory National Organizations – back of the directory
2014	Local Organizations – front of the directory National Organizations – middle of the directory International Organizations – back of the directory
2013	National Organizations – front of the directory International Organizations –middle of the directory Local Organizations – back of the directory

Second, within each main section of the directory, the government randomizes the sequence of the federations. Below is the order of the international federations for three years (note that it is not alphabetical). We highlight one federation, Global Impact, to show its change of position over the years.

Order	2015	2014	2013
1	Global Impact	Build a Better World	Jewish Aid Worldwide
2	Child Aid International	Jewish Aid Worldwide	Child Aid International
3	Build a Better World	Intl Independent Orgs	Aid for Africa
4	Charity Without Borders	Aid for Africa	Global Impact
5	Intl Independent Orgs	Global Impact	Do Unto Others*
6	Jewish Aid Worldwide	Charity Without Borders	Build a Better World
7	Aid for Africa	Child Aid International	Intl Independent Orgs
8	Haiti Aid

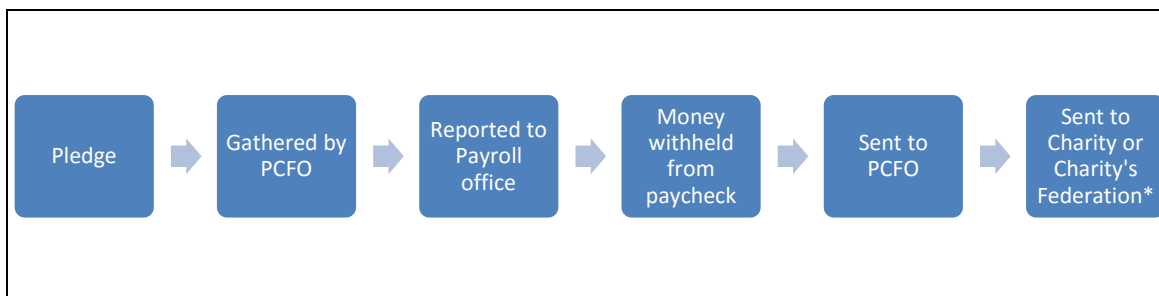

*Federation name changed in 2014 to Charity Without Borders.

Within a federation's own list, the order of its members is customarily alphabetical.

How the Money Flows

Donations to individual charities begin with employee pledges. As noted, employees are handed a CFC charity directory that lists all national, international and local charities that have been accepted into the CFC in a particular community. They also receive a pledge card. As noted, the CFC has also been encouraging donors to search for charities through online systems – and to pledge online as well.

Employees pick one or more groups they wish to support and pledge a particular amount to each group, money to be paid out of those employees' regular paychecks. If an employee wishes to donate $100 to a local organization, for example, he or she designates that group on the pledge card, and the PCFO arranges for the money to be withheld from his or her pay throughout the following year, usually beginning in January.

* If a charity participated in the CFC by affiliating with a federation, local administrators send the donations to that federation which then forwards the funds to the designated group. Otherwise, the PCFO sends the donated funds directly to the benefiting charity.

CFC administrative costs are paid out of donated funds. Each PCFO advances money to cover the expense of the campaign in its administrative zone, and then recovers that money from initial donations. Federations also generally advance the money to cover their own operations and then withhold funds from CFC donations as they arrive. If these funds are withheld from donations to member charities, as is common practice, they constitute a federation fee (though this is not the only way federations collect fees). Charities should consult directly with federations to learn their fee policies.

Universal Giving / All Around Giving

As noted, the government has published new regulations that will substantially change the CFC. In parallel with the development of these new regulations, the government also has been encouraging the adoption of electronic systems that will, the government hopes, streamline the CFC and encourage greater employee participation. Central to this effort has been the introduction of Universal Giving which has now been renamed All Around Giving.

All Around Giving allows employees to pledge support to any charity, national or local, wherever that charity is located. For most of the CFC's history, donor choice was far more limited. Donors everywhere could support any national or international charity which, by definition, was included in every administrative zone's CFC charity directory. But they could only support local charities in their own region, which were listed in the directory for their particular CFC zone.

Digital technology now allows donors to support local charities, however close or far the groups may be from the donors. So, for example, if a donor in San Diego wishes to support a local charity in Atlanta, the donor may look for that charity through an online CFC system. With that local group's CFC identifier in hand, the donor may then designate support to that group.

All Around Giving remains a small part of the CFC, but its use has been growing. Over time, we expect that increasing numbers of federal employees will offer support to local groups far removed from their place of work.

Project Design

The 1417 System

PCFOs are required to report to OPM the results of each year's campaign in their individual CFC zone. These reports (named after Form 1417) offer summary data concerning the number of employees who were invited to pledge, the number who did pledge, and the amounts pledged, broken down by federation. The government tallies this information and releases an aggregated 1417 report in the spring or early summer.

The government's 1417 report does not show pledge results for individual charities. The Workplace Giving Alliance contacts PCFOs directly to obtain more detailed data – pledge figures for each national and international group that participated in the most recent CFC.

Our Process

We begin to collect detailed data from PCFOs in February. By early summer, we usually have pledge data from the majority of the PCFOs including most of those that administer larger CFC zones.

In addition to the PCFO data, we obtain from OPM standard information regarding each national and international charity. We add this standard information to our database which results in the following data fields for each charity:

- The name of the charity
- The unique five-digit code assigned by OPM to identify the charity
- The charity's federation if it was so affiliated
- The topical categories (e.g., arts, health, civil rights) that the charity selected from a government list to describe itself when it applied to the CFC (see Results by Topics, later in this report)
- The brief 25-word statement that the charity submitted to the CFC to describe its work, a statement that was published in the CFC charity directory
- The administrative overhead percentage calculated from figures found on the charity's informational tax return, a figure that was published in the CFC charity directory
- The charity's website address
- The total pledged to that charity.

Many PCFO administrators share with us pledge results for local charities. Local data is not reflected in this report.

The Impact of Extrapolation

With the assistance of local CFC administrators across the country, we have been able to gather a uniquely large sample of donor preferences. Indeed, this report covers three years and includes information on the performance of more than 2,600 charities. We believe no study has been able to achieve that breadth or detail.

That said, our report remains a sample. To allow comparisons of pledge results over multiple years, we have projected pledge totals to 100 percent. Inevitably, extrapolating from a sample (however large) introduces error. Our experience suggests this is especially so for charities receiving smaller pledge totals.

To emphasize that the figures published here are extrapolations, we have rounded the reported totals to the nearest $100. Also, in the report's appendix, we have elected to not report specific pledge totals for national and international organizations that, according to the data we have, received under $1,000. In these instances, we have simply noted, < $1,000.

We also note that we have access to actual pledge totals for some groups, but that we have elected not to use them in this report. We have actual pledge numbers, of course, for all charities served by federations in the Workplace Giving Alliance. In addition, some organizations have contacted us to offer their own actual pledge amounts. In considering whether to replace our estimates with actual numbers where we can, we observed that our reports are by nature more about proportions and trends than exact numbers. With that in mind, we believe it makes sense to apply the same approach to all cases, rather than to treat a subset differently.

Project Results

Overview

This report includes pledge results from three CFC cycles: 2013, 2014, and 2015. Over 130 PCFOs have contributed data covering one or more years. As we have already noted, many administrative zones have merged over the years, so that now a smaller number of PCFOs represent a larger proportion of pledges.

CFC Year	# PCFOs in our Sample	Share of Total Campaign
2013	92	71.1%
2014	86	76.6%
2015	53	61.9%

The pledge figures in this report have been extrapolated to 100 percent to allow year-over-year comparisons.

As context, below are summary figures released by the Office of Personnel Management for the last three campaigns.

Note: It appears that when OPM released its figures for the 2015 CFC, the agency adjusted upward the total pledge figure for 2014. We have elected to retain and work with the figure originally released. The impact of the adjusted number on later sections of this report would be minimal.

We turn now to the results of the 2015 CFC. The sections below provide analysis under the following headings:

- Charities by Range of their Pledge Results
- Top 100
- Results by Topic
- Impact of Charity Overhead

Charities by Range of their Pledge Results

We start with a table that shows charity performance by pledge range. As one can see, 10 national and international charities received more than $1 million in pledges in the 2015 CFC. At the other end of the range, 211 organizations received less than $1,000.

Top 100

We present below results for the 100 national and international organizations receiving the highest pledges in the 2015 CFC. The pledge figures have been extrapolated and rounded to the nearest $100.

The amounts actually received by the charities will be less, primarily reflecting three factors:

- The amount withheld by the PCFOs to cover their local administrative costs. Nationwide, this equals roughly 14 percent of the pledges.
- Pledges that are not fulfilled. Nationwide, this equals roughly 3 to 4 percent of total pledges.
- The amount withheld by a charity's federation. This will vary widely, reflecting the policy of individual federations. Charities participating independently will not be subject to this last cost.

In the 2015 CFC, St. Jude Children's Research Hospital received the highest pledge total: an estimated $6,011,300. As in 2014, Wounded Warrior Project was in second place with an estimated $4,087,300,

A Million Donors Choose

and Doctors Without Borders USA held third place, receiving an estimated $2,242,600. The last charity within the Top 100 was Wycliffe Bible Translators, which received an estimated $172,800.

The first table below lists the Top 100 in descending pledge order. Also included are each charity's CFC number and federation affiliation, if the group was a member of a federation in the 2015 CFC. We have shortened some of the charity and federation names to save space. For purposes of comparison, we list to the far right of the chart each charity's rank for 2014 and 2013.

Our next table displays the pledge totals for the Top 100, organized by federation. The reader will see that 90 of the top 100 charities were affiliated with a federation. The American Red Cross and USO participated in the CFC on their own, with the visibility of a federation but without members.

Community Health Charities had 19 members in the top 100, receiving over $12.7 million in pledges. Federations, including Community Health Charities, have additional members, of course. Our table is limited to the Top 100. Figures for total pledges have been rounded to reflect extrapolation.

On the next page, we present a table that compares the 2015 pledges totals to the 2014 totals. The list is limited to the Top 100 charities.

As has been widely reported, total pledges in the 2015 CFC were below the total for the 2014 CFC; the actual drop was 7.98 percent. An organization that saw its own pledge total drop by less than 7.98 percent effectively performed better than the CFC as a whole. We have, therefore, broken the table into three sections:

- Organizations that saw their 2015 pledge total actually rise in comparison to 2014
- Organizations that saw their 2015 pledge total drop – but by an amount less than 7.98 percent
- Organizations that saw their 2015 pledge total drop by 7.98 percent or more.

The figures have been rounded to the nearest $100, reflecting the process of extrapolation. One Top 100 organization in the 2015 CFC did not participate in 2014, so the list below shows only 99 groups.

Results by Topic

When organizations apply to the CFC, they are asked to describe their services by selecting from 26 topical categories offered by the government. These categories are based on the National Taxonomy of Exempt Entities (NTEE) system, which is used by the IRS to classify nonprofit organizations. While it is not clear whether many donors search for charities by these categories, they do provide a useful tool to help understand the extent of donor interest in any particular cause.

The government invites charities to select up to three categories. A group might select category H (Medical Research) first, Category G (Disease, Disorder, Medicinal Disciplines) second, and Category B (Educational Institutions & Related Activities) third. In the CFC Charity Directory, all three categories would be included in the organization's listing: H, G, B. Many charities select only one or two categories.

For our initial analysis, presented here, we have used only the first category – meaning the category chosen first by each participating charity .

The table below shows the 2015 results, by category. The numbers have been projected to 100 percent and rounded to the nearest $100. They are in descending order.

Our next table shows how charities in each category performed on average – i.e., the total amount pledged is divided by the number of benefiting groups. The three right-hand columns compare the ranking for the last three years. Big shifts in rankings from one year to the next may reflect a category change for a high-performing organization rather than a major difference in donor sentiment.

Impact of Charity Overhead

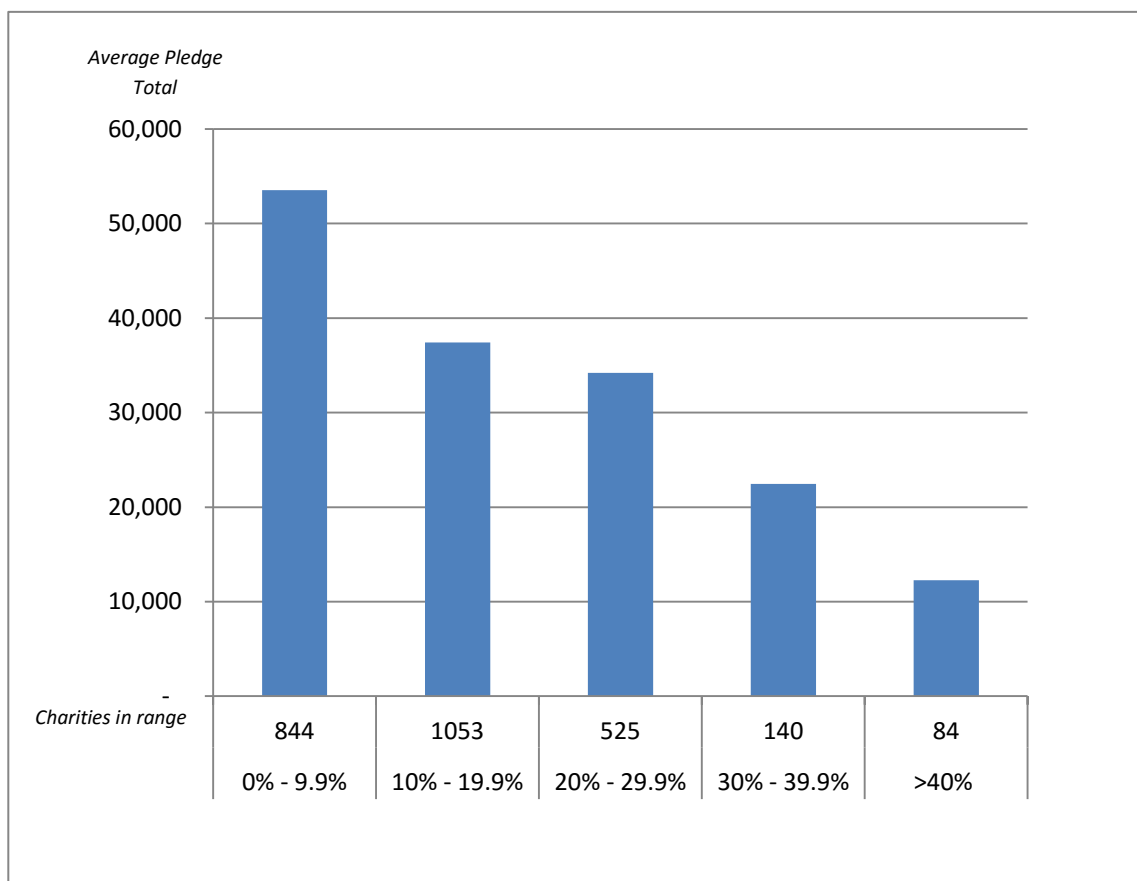

Each organization's listing in the CFC charity directory contains a number the government calls the Administrative and Fundraising Rate (AFR). It is intended to help donors understand the administrative overhead of participating charities. When organizations apply to the CFC, they are required to calculate this overhead using figures from the group's most recent IRS Form 990, using the formula below:

$$(\text{Fundraising Expenses} + \text{Management Expenses}) \div \text{Revenue} = \text{CFC Administrative Overhead \%}$$

Note that the formula does not use total expense as the denominator. OPM has long felt that dividing by the revenue would generate a more useful figure. The administrative overhead figure is printed in the CFC charity directory in the paragraph following the name of the organization.

The 2015 pledge results, like those for previous years, suggest that many donors take note of the administrative overhead figures. As the AFR rises, the average level of donor support declines.

A Million Donors Choose

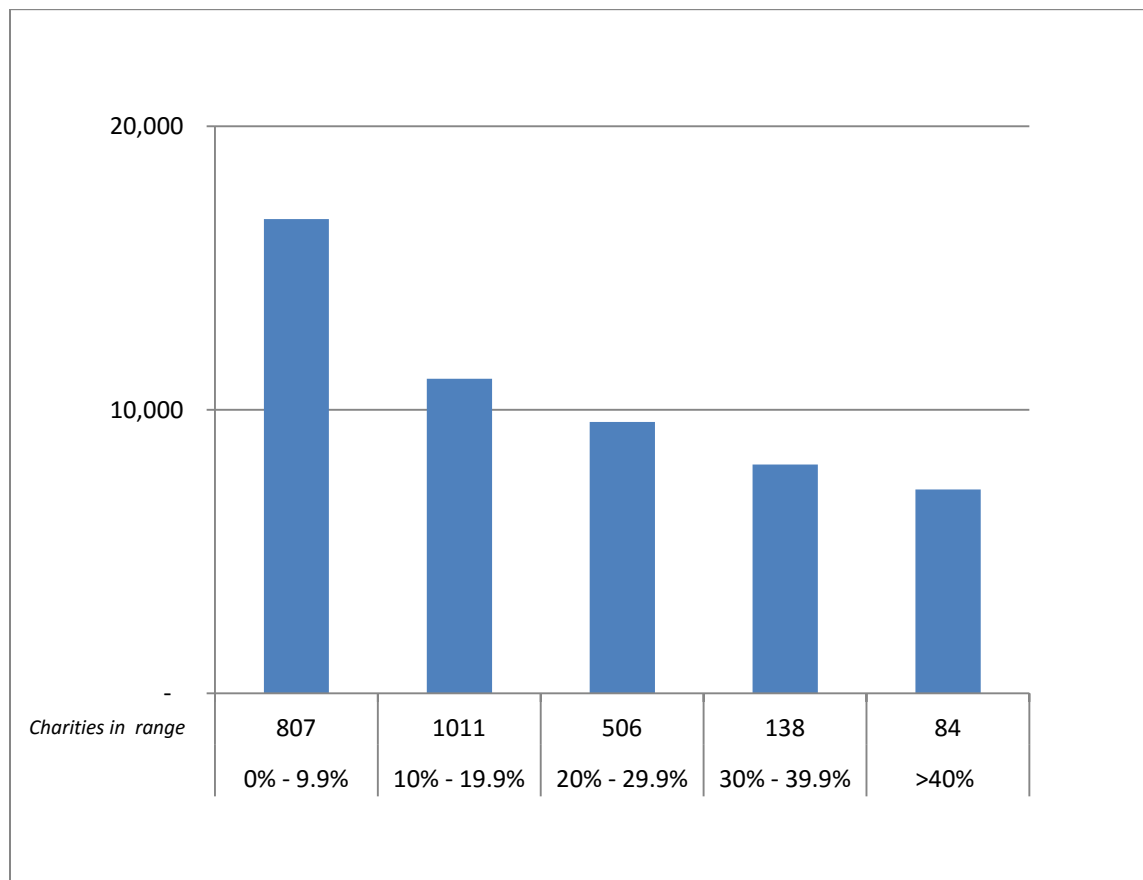

To better understand the impact of AFR on donor preferences, we isolated the Top 100 organizations. As you can see, the impact of AFR is less clear. We suspect this is due to the strong brand of organizations in the Top 100: Donors know these groups well and give to them with less concern for their overhead.

The next table reports the impact of AFR on donor selections for organizations not in the Top 100. Here, one can see that higher AFR rates translate into lower pledge results

How You Can Help

A Million Donors Choose is an ongoing study of donor preferences as revealed by their actual pledges. It is the largest study of its kind and benefits from the great number of U.S. government employees who participate in the Combined Federal Campaign each year.

Our first report, published in 2011, focused on results from the 2009 CFC. The current report covers three years (2013, 2014 and 2015) and includes year-over-year comparisons.

We invite local Campaigns to send us their information for the years covered by this report if they have not already done so. Please contact us for precise instructions, but generally we seek information in a spreadsheet format. The greater the detail you can offer, the stronger the insights we can all develop.

We also invite participating charities to share with us their pledge data – in summary form for each of the last few years or broken down by local CFC zone. We are delighted to work with individual organizations to compare our sample with the actual pledge totals in order to understand better the pledge patterns within the CFC.

Appendix: Results for All Charities

The following table lists every national and international organization that participated in the 2015 CFC. Again, the figures reflect data from 53 administrative zones representing about 62 percent of the total amount raised that year. The figures have been projected to 100 percent and have been rounded to the nearest $100.

The list is in alphabetical order. Names of some organizations have been shortened for reasons of space.

The table provides the name of each organization, its five digit CFC code, its federation affiliation if any, and its extrapolated 2015 pledge total.

As we have discussed, extrapolation introduces error – especially for organizations receiving a low level of support. We have elected, therefore, to not report specific pledge totals for national and international organizations that, according to the data we have, received under $1,000. In these instances, we have simply noted, < $1,000.

We also note, as we did earlier in this report, that we present estimated pledge figures in all cases, even though we have access to actual pledge totals for many organizations. Because our reports emphasize trends and proportions rather than exact numbers, we believe it makes sense to apply the same approach to all organizations, rather than to treat a subset differently.
