Dear Colleague:

Each year, about a million federal employees voluntarily participate in the Combined Federal Campaign, quietly donating hundreds of millions of dollars to tens of thousands of not-for-profit organizations. The program has been in operation since 1961 and has become the model for states, municipalities and others who offer their workers a simple way to support charities in their communities and around the world.

The CFC system is quite extensive, involving hundreds of administrative offices and using procedures developed over many years that are designed to ensure that funds go where donors wish. Not surprisingly, the CFC generates a great deal of data, a significant portion of which the government annually collects and publishes. The information that the government gathers and releases, however, is summary in nature: the number of federal employees across the country and overseas who were solicited, the number of employees who pledged, the total amount they pledged, and so forth.

While information of this kind is valuable (it can help identify nationwide trends, for example), it is possible to understand much more about the CFC and donor wishes. The data is available that can tell us the causes that most interest federal donors. We can learn whether donors care about a charity's administrative overhead. We can see whether donors in urban areas and rural areas participate to the same degree and support the same groups.

Given the amount of money donated, the CFC is a key source of philanthropic support for American charities. But, it can also be something more: a window into the priorities of American donors. Each year, about a million Americans – federal employees – give to thousands of charities. All of us in the philanthropic world can benefit from knowing better where these Americans are directing their support.

With the help of local CFC administrators across the country, we are publishing information far more detailed than any available before. We now can know which charities do best and which charities do worst. We can know what topics most appeal to donors, and more.

Our study, A Million Donors Choose, began a year ago with our publication of 2009 data provided to us by 110 CFC administrative zones. We have continued to reach out to administrators around the country and are now able to provide more complete data for that year.

In addition, we are now reporting on the pledge results for 2010 and 2011. For the first time, we are able to compare donor preferences year over year. The data for 2009 and 2010 is largely complete; we are actively seeking additional data for 2011 and plan to release updates later this year.

The CFC is a complicated world, administered nationwide and involving thousands of volunteers. Tens of thousands of charities are screened annually. Hundreds of millions of dollars are transferred from paychecks to benefiting groups.

A Million Donors Choose

We believe data such as we publish here can help administrators better manage the CFC. We believe as well that donors and charities alike will benefit if they can more easily understand this complex system.

While we have taken the lead in gathering and organizing the data, our project rests on the readiness of local administrators and others to help. We thank the PCFOs, government regulators, federal volunteers and others who have already contributed their information and insights. As this project evolves, we look forward to working with many others as well.

A project of this scale involves the contributions of many. The people and offices noted below have helped in a variety of ways. This project would not have been possible without their contributions. They do not, however, share blame for any error in analysis, which is entirely our own.

PCFOs Contributing to this Report

We wish to thank the administrators of the 130 local CFC zones who have kindly provided data for at least one of the years we are covering. OPM labels these administrators “PCFOs” or “Principle Combined Fund Organizations.” (We shall try to keep our jargon to a minimum, but this is a common CFC term.)

Those that have contributed for all three years are starred.

About the CFC

How It Works

For half a century, the U.S. government has sponsored the Combined Federal Campaign – the world's largest workplace fundraising drive.

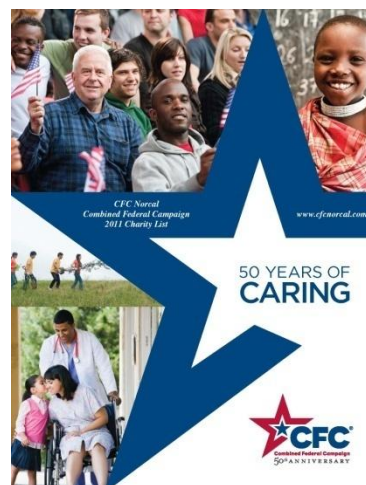

Each fall, beginning in September, federal employees – civilian, military and postal – are invited to support eligible national and local charities. Employees receive a directory that lists every eligible national and international organization, plus the many local groups that have qualified in a particular community. The size of the directory will vary, reflecting the number of local groups, but commonly the “book” runs to more than 100 pages.

Employees also receive a pledge card. They are advised that they can pick one or more groups from the list of qualified organizations and pledge to each one. About four million employees are invited to participate, and about one million employees pledge over a quarter billion dollars each year.

In recent years, the list of eligible organizations has also been published on CFC websites. On these sites, employees are invited to search for charities of interest and, in many communities, to pledge online. While the use of web-based tools is growing rapidly, most federal donors still use the printed directory and pledge card.

Federal donors will sometimes give a single gift, but normally employees authorize their federal payroll office to withhold a particular amount from each paycheck.

On the next page is a typical page of the directory showing a federation and its member charities.

Administration

The CFC is administered nationwide and overseas under the supervision of the U.S. Office of Personnel Management (OPM).

Government regulation assigns the day-to-day responsibility of running the CFC to community-based organizations called PCFOs – Principal Combined Fund Organizations. Over the years, the CFC has been consolidating PCFOs, but there are still almost 200 such administrative zones. Here is OPM's map for the 2011 CFC. As you can see, some manage extensive portions of the country involving more than one state. Others manage more densely populated areas that cover a part of only one state. There is also a PCFO assigned to run the CFC overseas, reaching the many employees who are working in other countries.

2011 PCFO zones—colors repeat, but do not indicate same PCFO

PCFOs screen the applications of local charities that wish to participate in their CFC zone. They also organize federal volunteers who represent the Campaign in the local offices of government agencies, mount kick-off events to promote the Campaign, print CFC directories for distribution to federal employees in their zones, distribute and collect pledge cards, tabulate pledge results, and help to transfer donated funds from employee paychecks to the benefiting organizations.

Each PCFO is itself a 501(c)(3) tax exempt organization. The PCFO must be audited annually and be governed by a board of directors.

Local federal volunteers oversee the PCFO in each zone of the CFC. These volunteers are organized as a local committee – the formal name is the Local Federal Coordinating Committee, or “LFCC.” The LFCC chooses the organization that will serve as PCFO, signs an agreement that authorizes the PCFO to operate within the CFC, approves an annual PCFO budget, and determines which local charity applicants meet CFC eligibility criteria.

CFC Eligibility

Organizations qualify for the CFC by meeting either national/international requirements or local requirements. If they submit a successful application, national/international organizations are eligible for pledges in all of the almost 200 CFC administrative zones. Local organizations can receive pledges only in their home zone or in adjacent zones if they submit a successful application.

National/International Eligibility

To participate in the CFC at the national/international level, organizations must:

- Be 501(c)(3) tax exempt
- Provide services in at least 15 states or at least one foreign country
- Account for funds on an accrual basis in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP)
- Commission an annual audit by an independent certified public accountant, using generally accepted auditing standards (GAAS)
- Submit to the IRS an annual informational tax return unless IRS rules do not require the organization to file such
- Be governed by an active and responsible board whose members have no material conflict of interest and a majority of whom serve without compensation.

Local Eligibility

To participate in the CFC at the local level, organizations must:

- Be 501(c)(3) tax exempt
- Be located and active in the CFC zone to which it is applying, or in an adjacent zone
- Account for funds on an accrual basis in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) unless the organization has revenue below $100,000, in which case a simpler bookkeeping system is permitted
- Commission an annual audit by an independent certified public accountant, using generally accepted auditing standards (GAAS), unless the organization has revenue below $100,000, in which case an audit is not required
- Submit to the IRS an annual informational tax return unless IRS rules do not require the organization to file such
- Be governed by an active and responsible board whose members have no material conflict of interest and a majority of whom serve without compensation.

The above criteria are summary in nature; charities interested in applying to the CFC should consult with OPM, their local PCFO, or their federation (see below) for actual admission requirements.

Federations

Organizations wishing to be listed in the Charity Directory may apply directly to the CFC or through a government approved “federation.”

To apply directly to the program, a national or international organization sends its application materials to Office of Personnel Management in Washington DC. A local organization sends its material directly to the PCFO administering the zone the charity wishes to enter.

Alternatively, organizations may apply through a federation, of which there are many at both the national/international level and local level. Federations are 501(c)(3) tax exempt organizations, governed by boards of directors. They must be audited annually and satisfy most of the same eligibility criteria met by individual applicants to the CFC. To qualify as a federation, an otherwise eligible organization must represent a minimum of 15 qualified CFC charities.

Here are the national and international federations that participated in the 2011 CFC:

International and National Federations

† = The CFC grants federation status to the American Red Cross and USO, though neither group has members.

Federations review charity applications to the CFC using the same criteria applied by OPM (national and international groups) or the PCFO (local groups). Federations may apply additional criteria. Once the federations have completed their review, they submit their list of recommended organizations to OPM or the PCFO which then selects a sample of the groups for a second review, to ensure that the government's eligibility criteria have been met.

Organizations that apply through a federation are listed with that federation in the CFC Charity Directory. Organizations that apply directly to the program (sending their application directly to OPM or a PCFO) are listed with similar organizations in an "Independent" section.

An organization that participates in the CFC through a federation will receive reports from its federation on how well it, the organization, did in the annual employee pledging. That organization's CFC donations will also flow through its federation (see How the Money Flows, below).

An organization that participates as an Independent group will receive pledge reports and donations directly from PCFOs.

Organizations do not have to affiliate with a federation to enter the CFC, but most do – for three key reasons.

1. Admissions support. Federations assist groups in preparing their applications. While eligibility requirements are public, preparing a successful application may not be intuitive. Federations can help applicants understand what is required and offer advice on how to resolve any weaknesses in the submitted material.
2. Increased visibility. Many federations – especially national/international federations – are organized around a specific theme. Thematic federations make it easier for donors to find and support groups they are interested in. As noted, the CFC directory is quite lengthy, running to about 100 pages. Federations are usually listed at the front of these directories in the table of contents, so donors seeking to support a specific kind of work can easily find a focused list of relevant organizations.
3. Fiscal services. Federations substantially reduce the administrative burden of processing donations, especially for national/international organizations. In the CFC, the PCFOs report pledge results for each participating charity to that charity's federation or, if there is no federation, directly to the individual charity. Since there are almost 200 administrative zones in the CFC, national and independent charities can find themselves overwhelmed by many reports and subsequent payments. Federations provide a unified point of contact, simplifying the flow of paper.

Federations are free to offer services beyond the processing of CFC applications, reporting of CFC pledge results, and the transfer of CFC donations. Some offer marketing support. Some facilitate participation in state, municipal and/or private sector workplace giving campaigns.

Placement in the Directory

As can happen with any lengthy list, groups that are listed at the front of the CFC Charity Directory appear to perform better. The government seeks to even out this effect and employs two techniques to minimize this advantage.

First, the government rotates the three main sections of the Directory. Here is the order of the Directory for the three years included in this report. We highlight Local Organizations so that the reader can see how placement shifts:

2009	International Organizations – front of Directory Local Organizations – middle of Directory National Organizations – back of the Directory
2010	National Organizations – front of Directory International Organizations – middle of the Directory Local Organizations – back of Directory
2011	Local Organizations – front of Directory National Organizations – middle of the Directory International – back of the Directory

Second, within each main section of the Directory, the government randomizes the sequence of the federations. Here is the order of the international federations for three years (note that it is not alphabetical). We highlight one federation to show its change of position over the years.

Order	2009	2010	2011
1	Aid for Africa	Global Impact	Aid for Africa
2	Intl Independent Orgs	Child Aid International	Intl Independent Orgs
3	Global Impact	Do Unto Others	Build a Better World*
4	Do Unto Others	Village by Village*	Jewish Aid Worldwide#
5	Israel Fund#	Aid for Africa	Child Aid International
6	Child Aid International	Intl Independent Orgs	Global Impact
7	Latin America Fund*	Jewish Aid Worldwide#	Do Unto Others

Name changes:

- Israel Fund changed name to Jewish Aid Worldwide

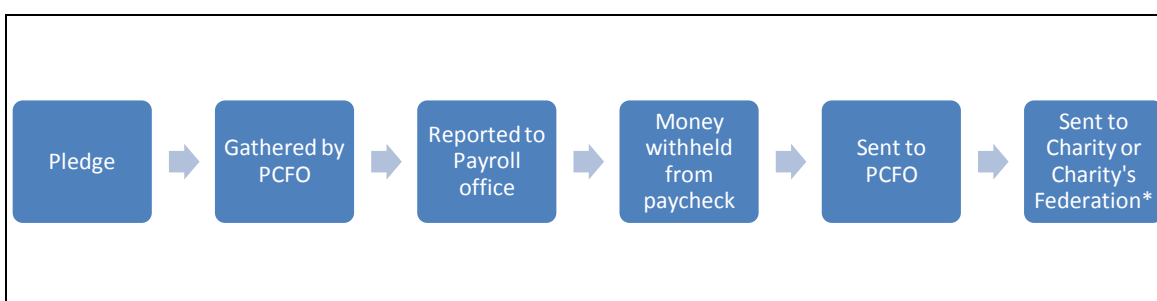

* - Latin America Fund changed name to Village by Village, then added a DBA "Build a Better World"

Within a federation's own list, the order of the members is customarily alphabetical.

How the Money Flows

Donations to individual charities begin with employee pledges. As noted, employees are handed a CFC Charity Directory that lists all national, international and local charities that have been accepted into the CFC in a particular community. They also receive a pledge card.

Employees pick one or more groups they wish to support and pledge a particular amount to each group, to be paid out of each employee's regular paycheck. If an employee wishes to donate $100 to a local organization, for example, he or she designates that group on the pledge card, and the PCFO arranges for the money to be withheld throughout the following year, usually beginning in January.

How the Money Flows

* If a charity participated in the CFC by affiliating with a federation, local administrators send the donations to that federation which then forwards the funds to the designated group. Otherwise, the PCFO sends the donated funds directly to the benefiting charity.

CFC administrative costs are paid out of donated funds. Each PCFO advances money to cover the expense of the Campaign in its administrative zone, and then recoups that money from initial donations. Federations also generally advance the money to cover their own operation and then withhold funds from CFC donations as these arrive. If these funds are withheld from donations to member charities, as is common practice, they constitute a federation fee (though this is not the only way federations collect fees). Charities should consult directly with federations to learn their fee policies.

Project Design

The 1417 System

PCFOs are required to report to OPM the results of each year's Campaign in their individual CFC zone. These reports (Form 1417s) offer summary data concerning the number of employees who were invited to pledge, the number who did pledge, and the amounts pledged, broken down by federation. The government tallies this information and releases an aggregated 1417 report in the spring or early summer.

The 1417s do not show pledge results for individual charities, and the government does not request this information from PCFOs. Believing that much could be learned from the nationwide performance of individual charities in the CFC, we decided to request such reports. We are assured by OPM that this information is public.

OPM requests that PCFOs submit their 1417 reports by mid-March though some local administrators take longer than that

Our Process

We begin to collect detailed data from PCFOs in February. By the late spring, we usually have pledge data from the majority of the PCFOs including most of those that administer larger CFC zones.

In addition to the PCFO data, we obtain from OPM standard information regarding each national and international charity. We add this standard information to our database which results in the following data fields for each charity:

- The name of the charity
- The unique five-digit code assigned by OPM to identify the charity
- The charity's federation if it is so affiliated
- The topical categories (e.g., arts, health, civil rights) that the charity selected from a government list to describe itself when it applied to the CFC (see below)
- The brief 25 word statement that the charity submitted to the CFC to describe its work, a statement that is published in the CFC Charity Directory
- The administrative overhead percentage calculated from figures found on the charity's informational tax return, a figure that is published in the CFC Charity Directory
- The charity's website address
- The total pledged to that charity.

We also collect pledge results for local charities, but they will be considered in another report.

Whether to Extrapolate from Interim Figures

With the kind assistance of local CFC administrators across the country, we have been able to gather a uniquely large sample of donor preferences. Indeed, this report covers three years and includes information on the performance of more than 2,500 charities. We believe no study has been able to achieve that breadth or detail.

That said, A Million Donors Choose remains a sample. For various reasons, not all PCFOs have shared their data, and our own experience with extrapolation leads us to be cautious whenever we project from partial numbers to a snapshot that supposedly reflects 100 percent of the national total.

We do project, and we know that our readers will do the same. In time, as more PCFOs share their results, we will be able to reduce any error that might flow from projections. For now, we urge caution.

Project Results

This reports includes pledge results from three CFC cycles: 2009, 2010, and 2011. As noted on page 6, 130 PCFOs have contributed data covering one or more years:

CFC Year	# PCFOs Reporting	Share of Total Campaign
2009	124	75.5%
2010	126	75.0%
2011	103	70.7%

We are still receiving data from across the country and anticipate releasing updated reports.

The sections below provide preliminary analysis of the 2009-11 data under the following headings:

- Overview
- Top 100
- Results by Topic
- Impact of Charity Overhead

Overview

The three years covered by this report have seen a drop in both the number of federal employees who have elected to participate and in the amount they have pledged. We present below the number of donors who pledged to any charity, national or local, and the total that was pledged for each of the years covered by this report.

	2009		2010		2011

Despite these drops, the CFC remains the world's largest workplace giving program.

This report focuses on the pledge results for the national and international charities that participated in each of these years. Later this year, we will report on pledges to local charities.

On the next page is a breakdown of how well the national and international charities performed over the last three years (2009-2011). The pledge data we have captured for each year (representing 70-75% of the known total) were extrapolated up to 100% in order to create figures comparable over the three years. What is shown is the three-year average of those extrapolated results. The pattern of results shown in this graph is typical for all the years we have studied.

The Top 100

Which national group raises the most money from federal donors?

We now can answer that question for the last three CFC cycles: St. Jude's Children Research Hospital. In the most recent year, 2011, St. Jude's received CFC pledges totaling $5,344,069 – in the 103 CFC zones whose data is reflected in this report. St. Jude's actually raised more, but, for now, we report the actual pledge information as we have received it.

The pledge figure for group 100 – Operation Homefront – was $197,904. Again, this number reflects the results from 103 CFC zones. The total amount actually pledged to them was, of course, somewhat higher.

A Million Donors Choose

The Top 100 are listed below, in descending order. Also included are each charity's CFC number and federation affiliation, if the group was a member of a federation in the 2011 CFC. We have shortened some of the federation names, to save space. For purposes of comparison, we list to the far right of the chart each charity's rank for 2010 and 2009.

As noted, these figures reflect reports from 103 PCFOs, representing about 71% of what charities were pledged in the fall of 2011.

Results by Topic

When organizations apply to the CFC, they are asked to describe their services by selecting from 26 topical categories offered by the government. These categories are based on the National Taxonomy of Exempt Entities (NTEE) system, which is used by the IRS to classify nonprofit organizations. While it is not clear whether many donors search for charities by these categories, they do provide a useful tool to help understand the extent of donor interest in any particular cause.

Note: The government invites charities to select up to three categories. A group might select category H (Medical Research) first, Category G (Disease, Disorder, Medicinal Disciplines) second, and Category B (Educational Institutions & Related Activities) third. In the CFC Charity Directory, all three categories would be included in the organization's listing: H, G, B. Many charities select only one or two categories. For our initial analysis, presented here, we have used only the first category.

Below are the 2011 results from the 103 reporting PCFOs organized to show categories in descending order of performance. The three columns at the right show how little the percentage share has changed since 2009. The topic receiving the highest total of pledges in all three years was Medical Research, followed closely by Health – General and Rehabilitative. The third highest performing topic was Human Services – Multipurpose and Other.

The next chart shows in graph form the consistency in donor choices over the years. Minor variations are sometimes the result of a major charity selecting a different NTEE code. They do not necessarily reflect changes in donor attitudes.

Our next table shows how the categories performed on average – i.e., dividing the amount pledged by the number of benefiting groups. The three right-hand columns compare the ranking for the last three years.

We have highlighted a handful of rows in the above table to focus on what can happen if a high performing charity moves into or out of a category that has relatively few charities in total. A dramatic example of this involves the USO – a top 10 CFC charity.

A Million Donors Choose

In the 2009 and 2010 CFCs, USO chose to identify itself as an International/ Foreign Affairs/National Security charity – belonging to NTEE Category Q. For the 2011 CFC, USO changed its first pick to Mutual Membership / Benefit Organizations—Category Y.

The International/Foreign Affairs category has numerous well-performing groups; nonetheless, the shift of USO away from that category led to a drop from 6 to 11 in the category's rank.

USO's choice of Mutual Membership also had a major affect on this category which had, till then, only lesser performing charities. The category rocketed from 14th position to 2nd in these rankings.

A second example involves Catholic Relief Services – another top 10 CFC charity – which changed its NTEE code in 2010 from Food, Agriculture and Nutrition(Category K) to Public Safety, Disaster Preparedness and Relief (Category M). Category K dropped in the rankings once Catholic Relief Services had shifted to Category M.

Changes like these do not reflect a true change in donor priorities, of course. But the rankings can be skewed when a top earner changes its selection of code. It is important to note that over 90% of the charities that were in all three campaign years (2009-11) never changed their first NTEE code at all, and most of those who did were too small to affect the ranking significantly.

Impact of Charity Overhead

Each organization's listing in the CFC Charity Directory contains a number the government calls the Administrative and Fundraising Rate (AFR). It is intended to help donors understand the administrative overhead of participating charities. When organizations apply to the CFC, they are required to calculate this overhead using figures from the group's most recent IRS Form 990, according to the formula below.

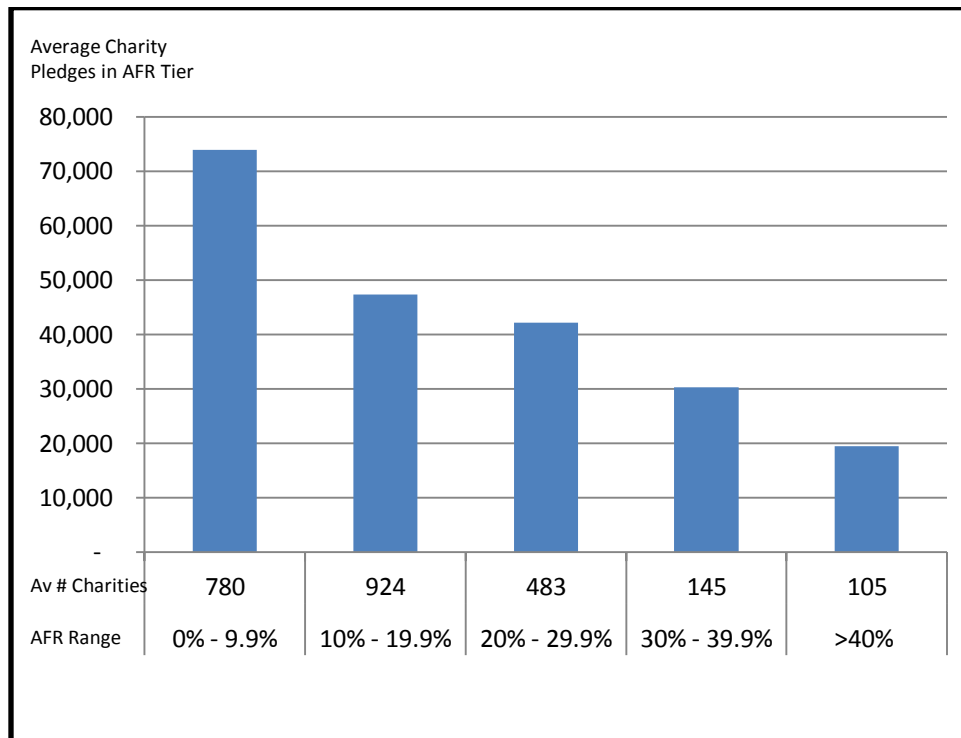

$(\text{Fundraising Expenses} + \text{Management Expenses}) \div \text{Revenue} = \text{CFC Administrative Overhead \%}$

Note that the formula does not use total expense as the denominator. The government has long felt that dividing by the revenue would generate a more useful figure.

The administrative overhead figure is printed in the CFC Charity Directory in the paragraph following the name of the organization.

The 2011 pledge results, like those for previous years, suggest that many donors take note of the administrative overhead figures. Charities with the lowest AFR (under 10 percent) received the highest average level of support: $70,436. As the AFR rises, the average declines. The table below reflects results for three years, 2009, 2010 and 2011, averaged together, presenting the average number of charities and the average amount earned in each tier.

What's Next in Our Study

A Million Donors Choose is an ongoing study of donor preferences as revealed by their actual pledges. It is the largest study of its kind and benefits from the great number of US government employees who participate in the Combined Federal Campaign each year.

Our first report, published in 2011, focused on results from the 2009 CFC. The current report covers three years (2009-11) and, for the first time, allows year over year comparisons.

Due to the wide interest in basic data on how CFC donors pledged, we have focused this report on the basic data: the performance of the individual charities, the performance of charity categories, and impact of overhead. Later this year, we shall release additional reports that will examine the data more deeply. We will also release a report on how local charities fared in the CFC.

We invite local Campaigns to send us their information for the years covered by this report if they have not already done so. Please contact us for precise instructions, but generally we seek information in a spreadsheet format. The greater the detail you can offer, the stronger the insights we can all develop.

Appendix: Results for All Charities

The following table lists every national and international organization that participated in the 2011 CFC. Again, the data is from 103 administrative zones representing about 71 percent of the total amount raised that year. The list is in alphabetical order. Names of some organizations have been shortened for reasons of space.

The table provides the name of each organization, its five digit CFC code, its federation affiliation if any, its 2011 pledges as reported by 103 PCFOs, and its rank in each of the last three years based on the results we have.
